Holland, MI — Black River Public School's National Geography Bee winner is Rohan Dandavati and the runner up is Joshua Fink.

Shannon Brunick, Head of School, presented Rohan with the medal for the school winner. Rohan's name will be put on a plaque which is located in the trophy case outside of the office. Rohan also won the Bee last year. He is now eligible to take the test to see if he will qualify for the state competition.

Participants in the final round of the school Geography Bee were: Emma Swanson, Joey Monhollon, Sean Bradfield, Kara Schutter, Rohan Dandavati, Noah Poindexter, Andrew Petter, Edoardo Bianchi, James McCann, Alexi Dalecke, Joshua Fink, Riley Pardue, Peter Ruitter, Baruch de Carvalho, and Brittany Foltice. The deciding question was "The Near Islands, including Attu and Agattu, are part of what larger chain of Alaskan islands?" The answer is the Aleutian Islands.
